Annual Message to the College Community

by Sister Karen Kennelly

The annual report gives me a welcome opportunity to share with you some of the highlights of the past year at Mount St. Mary's College.

We began the current academic year with a new sense of where we have been as a College, and where we are headed, thanks to the completion of our strategic planning process and our self-study for regional accreditation.

Strategic planning challenged us to reflect on the outside influences that will have an impact on us during the decade to come. We took a good, hard look at the way the population is changing in California and in our country. We studied the economic trends that are affecting all of us. We asked ourselves, as a College community, what we will need to do if we are to continue fulfilling our mission during the 1990s as a Catholic, liberal arts college, primarily for women.

As we engaged in our self-study in preparation for the regular ten-year WASC reaccreditation visit, which will take place in March 1992, the conclusions reached during the planning process were reinforced. Mount St. Mary's has achieved eminence as a college; being ranked among the top ten regional liberal arts colleges by U.S. News and World Report for the third year in a row is no accident. Our success in recruiting and graduating a multicultural student body has attracted national attention, as has our leadership program. Our academic programs, all taught in the context of a strong general education core, are outstanding, with special strengths in the sciences and health care professions. The number and quality of women who graduate and go on to pursue advanced academic and professional degrees are strong arguments for the value of remaining a women's college, one of only three on the West Coast today (there are 90 in the country).

At the same time as we recognize and take pride in our strengths, we are challenged by an increasingly difficult environment. Students come to us from every walk of life – our proportion of students from families with income at or below the poverty level equals or exceeds that in all but the community college segment of the public system of California. These students, and those whose family income is higher, know they can get a superior education at Mount St. Mary's. They can expect to receive individual attention and to get the courses they need to graduate in two or four years. But it is getting harder and harder for them to exercise a choice as to where they will go: to Mount St. Mary's, where tuition will cost them at least double what they can hope to get from their California state grant; or, to a college or university in the public system. Our strategic planning made it painfully evident that students' access has been constricted by public policy and inflation over the past decade. The level of financial aid grants has stayed the same, while college tuition expenses continue to rise. Each year, students are faced with a widening gap between what they can pay and what college costs. Each year, our financial aid counselors have to struggle harder to help meet student need: last year, the average need was $11,000; this year, it is $13,000.

This is where you come in. Without the giving of alumnae and friends, corporations and foundations, our college scholarship funds would be totally inadequate to meet the need. With your generous help, we are able to continue fulfilling our mission to make a Mount St. Mary's education accessible to those students who desire it, have earned it, and can benefit from it. You will see reflected in the pages of this magazine the achievements and aspirations of some of the young women who are here.

I am very pleased to be able to say "thank you" on behalf of the students who are already benefitting from your generosity, and to assure you that every effort you make to support Mount St. Mary's is matched by the gratitude of our teachers, students, administrators, and staff.

Chancellor of MSMC: Defining the Role

by Sister Magdalen Coughlin

As Chancellor, more than half my time is spent building friendships with representatives from corporations and foundations who may be interested in supporting Mount St. Mary's College.

We need to relate the education we offer at the College to the larger society it serves. When program officers of corporations and foundations find out who we are, and what we offer, they listen. We have a compelling story to tell, a story that engages the listener both intellectually and emotionally.

In telling the Mount St. Mary's story, we recognize that others should want to fund MSMC. We're doing them a favor when we persuasively articulate the aims of the Alternative Access program on the Doheny campus, for example. Funders do respond to quality and authentic values-based education. Statistics show that nearly 50 percent of our grant applications are funded. (For most schools, the rate is closer to 25 percent.) Clearly, our good fortune is a reflection of the College's success in meeting the needs of today's students.

How do I describe Mount St. Mary's College to potential funders? We're independent, meaning we're free to deal directly with issues affecting the young women who will be leaders in the 21st century. Research shows that the focused attention women receive at single-sex colleges enhances their self-esteem and their contribution to society. We are Catholic, and that means we take faith and values seriously. We encourage a commitment to service, to working for the common good. An essential component of our general studies curriculum requires students to explore the process of making moral and ethical judgements. Ethics courses offered in business and the health sciences allow students to think through ethical issues before they are faced with making crucial decisions in their professional lives.

We are strongly rooted in the liberal arts and sciences. Students in the 1960s and '70s resisted having to fulfill requirements in philosophy and theology, and we had a tough fight on our hands. Many colleges under similar pressure dropped those requirements, but we remained true to our original vision of a liberal education. Now our graduates thank us for requiring study that offers a wider perspective. MSMC students are accepted at the best medical and graduate schools in the country.

All of these factors combine to create the educational environment of Mount St. Mary's College. Our uniqueness has led to forming associations with a number of national funding sources like the Ford Foundation and The Pew Charitable Trusts. A more detailed account of our many fruitful associations appears on the next page.

Much of my work in the coming year will be focused on broadening our fundraising to ensure the long-term vitality of the College. We need more alumnae support both in number of donors and amount given. We are also in the process of expanding our approach to planned giving, and establishing endowed faculty chairs in key areas.

At Mount St. Mary's College, we maintain standards of excellence, address the concerns of our society, and focus on values in the midst of a confusing and often troubling world. Our continuing mission is to inspire all students to realize their potential and contribute to their times with understanding, compassion, and competence.

An Overview of

Corporation and Foundation Support from the Office of Institutional Advancement

What follows is a report on the status of current grants to Mount St. Mary's College and a glimpse at how these funds are helping us further our mission to prepare young women for the challenges of a new century. Specifically, our efforts fall into three areas: expanding scholarship support by increasing our endowed and expendable scholarship programs; enlarging our student loan programs; and raising funds for programmatic changes.

More than $5.5 million has been raised in gifts and pledges to add to the College's endowed scholarship program in honor of Sister Magdalen Coughlin, who retired as president of Mount St. Mary's College in 1989. Additionally, more than 221 donors in 1990-91 contributed gifts to build their existing endowed scholarship funds, establish new funds, and help successfully meet the George H. Mayr and Times Mirror Foundation matching challenges.

Five foundations now make it possible for a greater number of needy students to attend MSMC. As a result of these outstanding leadership gifts, we will continue to attract and retain promising, quality students. Each of the following foundations has built an endowed scholarship fund to more than $1 million as part of the Sister Magdalen Coughlin Endowed Scholarship program:

Fritz B. Burns Foundation

Conrad N. Hilton Foundation

W. M. Keck Foundation

Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Foundation

Dan Murphy Foundation

Alumnae responded enthusiastically to the James Irvine Foundation's $600,000 matching challenge grant, setting an all-time high for total alumnae giving of $362,286 in 1990-91. With the first $300,000 raised, alumnae now need to raise an additional $300,000 in gifts and pledges by June 30, 1992. Pledges for the Irvine Challenge may be paid in 1993. Gifts and pledges will initiate the Alumnae Opportunity Award Fund, establishing a permanent endowment to enable young women to attend their freshman year at MSMC free of the increasingly heavy burden of college loans.

A note on alumnae giving: while total dollars raised exceeded expectations, the number of alums contributing has fallen below previous participation levels. With over 75 percent of today's students receiving financial aid, it is imperative that alumnae increase their participation in the life of the Mount.

As a complement to our scholarship programs, the College continues to expand our financial aid options to include low-interest loan funds, making MSMC accessible to more students. In 1990-91, we completed year four of the Weingart Foundation's matching challenge, which will provide an additional $575,750 in interest-free MSMC student loans.

Finally, it would be shortsighted for us to focus all our efforts on raising funds to help students pay their tuition. The College is recognized nationally as an innovator in higher education. We continue to seek support for the creation of academic programs that meet the needs of an ever-changing population of students.

The fiscal year concluded with successful completion of the Knight Foundation's $249,000 matching challenge grant to support ongoing curriculum revisions. The revisions emphasize a multicultural perspective and an academic foundation that values cultural pluralism.

The Ford Foundation, The Pew Charitable Trusts, Coors Foundation and the Clowes Fund have all agreed to support the Knight Foundation's curriculum revision project and will provide an additional $346,000 in matching funds.

ARCO Foundation, Inc. matched a grant for $35,000 from CAPHE/NYNEX for infusing multicultural perspectives across the curriculum, a complementary program designed to help prepare teachers for the students of the 21st century.

MSMC has also been named among an elite group of seven schools nationally to receive funds through the 3M "Vision" program. The $36,000 3M grant will launch a program to help students develop critical thinking and writing skills as they explore contemporary moral and societal problems.

A grant from CBS Foundation has provided funding for the dissemination of information on our successful and innovative Alternative Access program. The Alternative Access program brings underprepared and underrepresented students into the college mainstream. The grant will enable us to work with local media, which will provide technical assistance to help communicate our story more effectively to more people.

A gift to education is a priceless investment in the future. Educational excellence is nourished by a caring community — this annual report acknowledges all who supported MSMC's mission from July 1, 1990 through June 30, 1991. Thank you for accepting the challenge!

MOUNT ST. MARY'S COLLEGE

Honor Roll 1990-1991

Message to Alums from MSMC Alumnae President Alicia Andujo

These are exciting and challenging times for Mount St. Mary's College. As in many families, the Mount's expenses have increased. Operating costs and tuition are up at the College while state and federal student aid programs have decreased.

The James Irvine Foundation Opportunity Awards present an excellent option for Chalon and Doheny alumnae to show their financial support to Mount St. Mary's College. Let's not wait for a "crisis" situation to occur within the Mount family as it did at Mills College before offering our financial support. Please join me in partnership with fellow alumnae in meeting the goal of raising $300,000 by June 30, 1992. Your financial assistance in whatever amount you are able to contribute does indeed make a difference.

Clarissa Cruz
Senior, physical therapy

"At home in the Philippines, students and intellectuals were harassed — or tortured — if they spoke out against the Marcos regime. Ultimately, I'd like to use my work in physical therapy to help rehabilitate some of these victims."

Clarissa Cruz, 21, has seen a lifetime's worth of poverty and misery in her homeland. Three years ago, she left the little town of Cavite to follow her dream of completing her education in the U.S.

"The moment I walked on this campus I felt serene, at peace. And our teachers are so accessible. They make each of us feel special." Cruz works in Campus Ministry and is deeply committed to fighting human rights abuses, especially in Third World countries. She is receiving support for her education through the Times Mirror Foundation.

Just the thought of Commencement in May calls forth a flood of emotions. "I think I'll feel humble, ecstatic, happy beyond words. I've been given so much in my life, and I know much is expected of me — but I'm ready to face that responsibility."

Jean Milew
Junior, music

"I could have opted to go to a music conservatory, but I knew Mount St. Mary's would offer me a wider range of experiences and opportunities for growth."

Jean Milew is both a student and a teacher. She's studied piano since she was five years old and is an undisputed star of the MSMC music department. But she also teaches piano to beginning and intermediate students. "Teaching is absolutely a two-way street. It's so exciting to realize how much I'm learning from my students!"

Milew appreciates the many opportunities she has to perform each semester. In most music programs at larger colleges, performance is primarily the domain of graduate students.

In between concerts and teaching, she works with the admissions office on the Presidential Scholarship program; she is, herself, a President's Scholar. Milew also studies voice, performing extensively with the Mount Choir and Mount Singers. Another refrain in her musical life is composing; she writes art music, and explains that her music might be described as "modern classical" in lay terms. A lover of poetry, she was almost an English major; now, she says, her most lyrical verse is inspired by the keyboard.

Jannet Covarrubias
Freshman, accounting and international relations

"Advanced calculus was fun. I like numbers...they make me feel calm and focused. But I also want to learn Russian."

Jannet Covarrubias, 18, is one of the three Doheny freshmen pictured on the cover, and an Irvine Opportunity Award recipient. She'd like to be an accountant — although a traveling accountant would be even more to her liking. Her father's family speaks Russian, and she'd like to explore that part of the world, even in the midst of its current turmoil and transition.

Covarrubias is very involved in the Associated Student Body on the Doheny campus, helping plan special events like the annual "Safe and Sane Halloween." She loves music, and sings in her church choir. "We're all like a family here," Covarrubias says. "When I have a problem, there's always someone I can go to ... Sister Kathleen Kelly, my teachers, a friend."

Genevieve Dybka
Freshman, biology and political science

"I always wanted to go to a women's college. I visited three other campuses but what I noticed about Mount St. Mary's was how supportive all the women are of each other. That was a big difference."

Genevieve Dybka has dived into college with relish. A President's Scholar and recipient of a W. M. Keck Foundation award, she represents the freshman class as a student senator and coordinates meetings among freshmen to talk about adjusting to college life. She plans to go to medical school and become an obstetrician/gynecologist; after medical school she'd like to spend two years working with the Peace Corps in Central America, India, or Africa.

Karen Jimmons
Sophomore, liberal arts and sociology

"I like the emphasis here on helping women become leaders. I have learned to be a lot more confident in the contributions I can make both in my job and in the classroom."

Karen Jimmons is one of the first participants from MSMC in a new Southern California Edison Company grant program that sponsors a student by providing tuition support, a mentoring program, a job in the company, and five shares of stock. The company tries to help ease the transition from the academic to the business world.

Jimmons attends classes on both campuses as she prepares baccalaureate study at Chalon next year. She comes from a family of nine children and college would have been out of the question without substantial financial aid.

She also works with the Associated Student Body as an office manager, a peer counselor, and the co-chair of the social and cultural committee. Jimmons plans to pursue a career in either business or teaching.

The Annual Fund year reported in this issue ran from July 1, 1990 - June 30, 1991. All gifts received from July 1, 1991 will be acknowledged in next year's Honor Roll.

The alumnae office and the Institutional Advancement staff have worked hard to avoid errors and omissions. With a report of this kind, however, mistakes can and do occur. We apologize for any oversight or errors and would appreciate being informed of such mistakes.

Becki Schwartz
Sophomore, physical therapy and child development

"I'd like to be an educator, a bridge between patients and what they need to know about their own treatment. They should understand not just the how of treating an injury, but the why."

Becki Schwartz looks forward to running her own pediatric physical therapy practice in the not-too-distant future. But there are other passions in her life. She plays on both the volleyball and basketball teams, works as the athletics department office manager, and serves on the MSMC Athletics Advisory Board.

She's also the sports editor on the MSMC newspaper, The View, and puts in 20 hours a week as a physical therapy aide at a local clinic. She's aiming for a master's degree in PT, and perhaps even an M.D. To top it all off, she's married.

"My husband is incredibly supportive. It would be impossible to get through my schedule without him," Schwartz says. She is financing her education thanks, in part, to a grant from the Ahmanson Foundation.

Classics

'38 Mary Zinke Kniazeff moved to a new house in San Diego although it was difficult leaving her home of almost 40 years with its many happy memories.

'43 Mary Emerson Limebrook celebrated a family reunion with her three brothers and their wives with great fun and geriatric conversation. Mary also pursues her avocation of investigative research on missing persons and manages to visit her daughter Mary Limebrook Burnham '70 in Shingle Springs, CA.

'46 A 44th wedding anniversary was celebrated by Patricia O'Neill Fiedler and her husband last fall.

'47 Retirement and unstructured time is wonderful according to Martha Holt Watson.

'48 Pearl Butier Henzgen became a "senior citizen" and a first time grandmother.

'50 Mary Clare O'Brien Pettit is recuperating from back surgery.

'51 Mary Alice Connors McCann is retired from her career of 20 years as a secretary for the Navy in San Diego. She is keeping busy with a part time job as a word processor for the City of Encinitas, the Altar Society of her church, caring for her mother-in-law, and interacting with her six children and grandchildren. She and her husband, a retired high school teacher, are both in good health.

'52 Barbara Pearman Allen is doing freelance counseling and community organizational development, having learned to manage some health problems.

'52 Juanita Cusack Quinn continues to publish extensively in professional nursing journals on subjects such as "The Nurse Manager and Ethical Choices" and "Useful Skills for Productive Committee Meetings." She traveled to Australia in June just "for fun."

'55 Rosemary Heffron Dorazio welcomed her two eldest daughters and their families back to Tucson and the activity that accompanied them; she will be off to Ireland and Italy next fall.

'55 Employed in the Data Center of Loral Aerospace Co. (formerly Ford Aerospace), Stella Del Duca Yost finds contentment in her family and enjoys babysitting the grandchildren on weekends.

'56 Last Thanksgiving was the occasion of a special gathering for the family of Barbara Book Baxter who not only celebrated the holiday but a birthday as well.

'58 Loretta Vonderahe Dorsett was awarded a 1000 hour pin for volunteer service as Hospice Bereavement Coordinator at St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland, OR, and is the hospital's 1991 nominee to be the Governor's Volunteer of the Year.

'58 Sharon Fay Koch is completing coursework for her master's in ministry at Seattle University; she has served as an intern chaplain for Hospice of Snohomish County and just completed her first unit of clinical pastoral education at Swedish Hospital in Seattle.

'60 Kathleen Kelley Herman handles the graphic design and all phases of the publication of a scuba diving magazine.

'60 Marilyn Jamison Pappas and her husband are celebrating the arrival of their first grandchild.

'62 Mary Norton Butler finds this an exciting time to be in the field of education partially due to her involvment in the process of school restructuring.

'62 Barbara J. Fleckenstein contends that Pepe Delgado's Restaurant in San Luis Obispo, where she has worked as manager for 13 years, is the town's best Mexican Restaurant. Barbara also enjoys her new home in Templeton and her golf game.

'64 Sally Sands Higgins, a cardiologist nurse specialist, is the first nurse at Children's Hospital, Oakland, to earn a Ph.D., having received her Doctor of Philosophy from UCSF. She has been chairperson of the Nursing Research Committee since 1986, and is also a member of the hospital's Medical Staff Research Committee. She has contributed more than a dozen articles to medical literature and is the author of three chapters in textbooks on the nursing care of children with congenital heart disease. Dr. Higgins has received numerous grants and fellowships, including the UCSF Chancellor's fellowship award and a research grant from the National Institutes of Health to work on her dissertation, "Parental Decision-Making about Pediatric Cardiac Transplantation." She is a member of Sigma Theta Tau, national nursing honor society, American Heart Association Council on Cardiovascular Nursing, Association for the Care of Children's Health, National Council of Family Relations and the Pediatric Cardiology National Council of Nurses. Sally, her husband, Charles Higgins, M.D., professor and chief of magnetic resonance imaging at UCSF Medical Center, and their two children reside in Tiburon.

'64 Olivia Grieco LaBouff took a year's leave of absence from her doctoral program at UCLA to adjust to her new job as school administrator for the South Bay Union High School District.

'64 Cecelia Schmahl Stratford and her husband are still flying their Piper Cherokee. Recent destinations have included Oregon, Washington, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana and Utah.

'66 Michele Tynan achieved her master's in nursing from UCLA in 1986 and is responsible for the development and implemenation of the Professional Nursing Case Management program, at Daniel Freeman Hospital. She also serves as director of the program, which is credited with considerable cost saving to the hospital.

'69 Adele Vezeau Burbridge is starting her 13th year at Allied-Signal Aerospace Company in Torrance, her 4th year of teaching ESL at San Gabriel High School, and her first year of marriage with an instant family of five children and eight grandchildren. Adele looks forward to retirement and making her short trips into long ones.

'69 Mary Barnidge Johnston works with liturgy at her parish where she directs five choirs and trains cantors for the diocese of Scranton, PA.

'70 Lorraine Sawai Noda, whose efforts, policies and programs are credited for the success of a new middle school, was selected Teacher of the Year by St. Louis School in Honolulu, HI. Lorraine is also student council moderator and teaches ESL and math.

'74 Carolyn Flemming Troupe received her Doctor of Education degree in institutional management at Pepperdine University in December 1990, completing a dissertation on: "A Comparative Study: Measuring Life Satisfaction, Health Perception, and Health Care Costs of Participants and Nonparticipants in Pre-Retirement Programs."

'75 Judy Schaffer was in Guatemala and Nicaragua during the month of February assisting health care surgery for the Witness for Peace and Physicians for Social Responsibility.

'81 Barbara Kucia Condrey moved from Los Gatos to the Sacramento area.

'81 Lorna Buhler Laney is a nurse practitioner in private practice. She received a National Certificate in family practice and OB/GYN, and is an American Cancer Society Breast Patient Facilitator.

'82 Kathleen Cornelius-Smith received a master's degree in nursing administration from UCLA last spring and is now enjoying a new residence with her family in Columbus, OH.

'85 Barbara Abramson is receiving national recognition for her photographic work. Her photographs are part of the permanent collection of the National Museum of Women in the Arts in Washington, D.C. They were shown as part of a world tour with a Women in Photograpy show celebrating 150 years of photography. Barbara was recently honored for three photography shows in 1990-91 by the San Fernando Valley Arts Council and was also featured in a PBS special on her work with teenager rehabilitation and the arts in Utah.

'85 Karen Chapman received her master's degree in health care administration from Cal State Long Beach in December.

'88 Gianna F. Abondolo is a cellist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

'88 Christine Ryder received her master's degree in early elementary education from Teacher's College, Columbia University. Living on the upper west side of Manhattan and teaching kindergarten at a private school in Washington Heights, Christine loves being back home in New York City.

'88 Madelon Mackey Zegers graduated from UCLA last June with a master's in nursing and a specialty in pediatrics. Having recently moved to Sonoma, CA, she works as a pediatric nurse practitioner for Child Haven, an early intervention program for high risk families and for Solano County Public Health Dept. in the well baby clinic.

'89 Cherie Harrich and her husband are moving to Dallas where he will continue his education and career.

'90 An organic chemistry class at Auburn Univ. spurred the romance between Sophia Marie Herrick and her new fiance. Having completed pre-med courses, Sophia is off to medical school in the West Indies.

'91 Monique Louise Borgers began working as a sales representative for Pitney Bowes last June.

'91 Brenda L. Eames has begun studies at Southwestern University of Law.

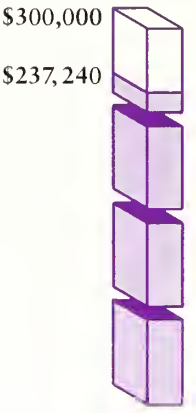
Irvine Opportunity Awards



Alumnae and friends of the College have gone over the three-quarter mark in the effort to reach a $300,000 goal that will complete the Irvine Opportunity Award Challenge by June 30, 1992. The funds will endow the Alumnae Opportunity Awards, which will be issued to deserving students who need financial aid to study at Mount St. Mary's College.

You are invited to join us: please use the remittance envelope enclosed in this issue to make your generous gift and pledge. You can make a difference in a student's life.

Mount St. Mary's College Alumnae: Whereabouts Unknown

Finding a former classmate can be just like looking for the proverbial "needle in a haystack." But not anymore. Soon a comprehensive directory of our alumnae will be available to help you locate your old friends.

The new Mount St. Mary's College Alumnae Directory, scheduled for release in early 1993, will be the most up-to-date and complete reference on over 6,300 Mount St. Mary's College alumnae ever compiled! This impressive volume will include current name, address and phone number, plus business information (if applicable), bound into a classic, library-quality edition.

The alumnae office has contracted the prestigious Bernard C. Harris Publishing Company, Inc. to produce our Directory. Harris will soon begin researching and compiling the information to be printed in the Directory by mailing a questionnaire to each alumna/us. (If you prefer not to be listed in the Directory, please contact the alumnae office in writing as soon as possible.) Look for more details on the project in future issues of the magazine.

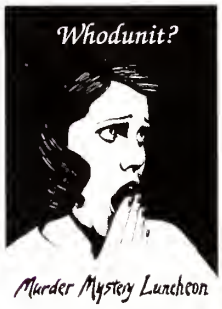
Alumnae Mystery Luncheon

Calling All Sleuths!



If you are an armchair gumshoe with an eye for detail, you will definitely enjoy the fiendishly delightful WHODUNIT? Murder Mystery Luncheon and Benefit Silent Auction to be held March 28 at the scene of the crime, the Odyssey Restaurant, Granada Hills.

"You'll need all of your deductive powers to solve THIS crime created especially for us by the famous duo — Keith and Margo's Murder Mystery Weekend," warns Gina Poli Hsiung, luncheon chairperson.

Gina's partners in crime include Jeanne Redell Ruiz and Trish Dominguez Ellis, who will track the suspects as they handle reservations and seating arrangements. Even Miss Marple should approve of Gail Flood's table centerpieces. Murder must advertise, so Claudia Ruiz is collecting business and patron ads for the program and recruiting table hostesses.

Wait...What's this??? In addition to the day's suspense, the Silent Auction tables will be open for bids and to raise funds for the Alumnae Scholarship Fund. Mingle with fellow alums and you might find the Maltese Falcon or the Treasure of Sierra Madre among the items displayed.

For further information about tickets, ads, or donating an item for the auction, please call.*

Saturday, April 11
